

Asana recognized as a Leader in Gartner® Magic Quadrant™ for Collaborative Work Management

December 14, 2023

Asana, a leading enterprise work management platform, has been named a Leader in the Gartner® Magic Quadrant™ for Collaborative Work Management. The report positions Asana as furthest in Completeness of Vision.*

"Today's enterprise leaders need tools that connect the work being done across individuals, teams, and departments to broader company goals in order to drive outcomes and revenue," said Anne Raimondi, Asana's Chief Operating Officer. "Companies globally are moving away from legacy tools and embracing AI-powered collaborative work management to transform the way they work. As a Leader in the first Gartner Magic Quadrant for Collaborative Work Management, we are honored to be recognized for our completeness of vision and ability to execute."

Gartner® Magic Quadrant™ reports leverage rigorous, fact-based research to provide a comprehensive view of vendor positioning within high-growth markets characterised by significant differentiation. The report defines the collaborative work management market as encompassing products that offer task-driven workspaces to facilitate user planning, coordination, and work automation.

What customers have to say about using Asana:

We started with Asana as a project management tool but now we truly use it as a work management tool. As an Enterprise customer we appreciate data hosting in Europe, the fast support, the great customer success manager and overall support that we've received from various roles within this company.

VP Digital Innovation, Project and Portfolio Management

We implemented Asana to track, manage and optimize our business initiatives to work more organized and be able to define clear actions and owners to our daily tasks and to improve accountability in order to improve our business results.

Growth Lead, Media Industry

Our experience with Asana has been fantastic! The ease of use of the software has led to greater user adoption in our organization. The training provided by Asana gave us a great jumpstart and the ability to add users has been seamless. Being a member of the Ambassador program has provided a valuable community experience and an opportunity to evaluate new features and provide feedback regarding future development. New features and functionality are regularly provided and customers have the opportunity to vote on what comes next.

VP Strategy and Planning, Banking Industry

You might find that Asana meets or exceeds your business needs, if you give it a try. The entire Asana organization has been great to work with! They are dedicated to customer success and provide quick support. The implementation of the tool was smooth and my team was able to quickly adopt the project management processes thanks to comprehensive onboarding. Overall, we are having a great experience using Asana!
