

MIGSO-PCUBED expands UK footprint with new Birmingham office

July 18, 2024

MIGSO-PCUBED (MP), a global leader in project, program, portfolio, and change management consultancy, has announced the opening of its fourth UK office in Birmingham. This strategic expansion underscores the company's commitment to delivering exceptional services to clients across the UK.

Located in the iconic Alpha Tower, the new office will serve as a hub for MP's growing client base in the Midlands. The company plans to create over 100 new jobs in the region over the next few years, contributing to the local economy and talent pool.

"We are thrilled to establish a presence in Birmingham," said Richard Siddle, MP UK General Manager. "This city is known for its vibrant business environment and rich history in innovation. Our new office will enable us to be closer to our clients in the Midlands, fostering stronger partnerships and delivering tailored solutions."

Pooja Jobanputra, Midlands Hub Director, added, "Birmingham's dynamic ecosystem and central location make it an ideal hub for our operations. By expanding here, we are not only bringing new job opportunities but also establishing a strong local presence that will drive meaningful engagement with our clients and the broader community. This office symbolises our dedication to fostering growth and delivering exceptional project management solutions unique to the needs of our fellow Midlanders."

With this expansion, MIGSO-PCUBED reinforces its position as a leading provider of project management solutions in the UK, offering clients access to a wider range of expertise and resources.
