Crows Nest unveils new website highlighting customization for Project-Based Manufacturers

August 16, 2024

Crows Nest, a provider of ERP and project management software solutions, today announced the launch of its completely redesigned website. The new site emphasizes Crows Nest's commitment to delivering a highly customizable solution tailored to the needs of project-based manufacturers, service providers, and subcontractors.

"We're really excited about our new site," says Paul Hitchcock, founder and president. "Site visitors can now easily see what makes us different and better than other ERP and project management solutions, and signing up for a completely free and personalized product demo has been simplified."

CrowsNestSoftware.com features a user-friendly interface that showcases the software's comprehensive suite of features. Visitors can explore capabilities spanning the entire project lifecycle, from estimating to project closeout. Additionally, the website highlights the benefits of Crows Nest's mobile app and fixed asset management tools.

The redesigned site also features in-depth customer testimonials showcasing real-world success stories. These testimonials demonstrate how Crows Nest empowers businesses in cabinetmaking, millwork, casework, architectural woodworking, and other specialized trades to achieve operational excellence.
