

BuildOps welcomes Duncan Grazier as Chief Technology Officer

September 17, 2024

BuildOps, a leading all-in-one software platform for commercial contractors, is thrilled to announce the appointment of Duncan Grazier as Chief Technology Officer. Duncan's extensive experience in scaling engineering teams and driving product innovation will be instrumental in shaping BuildOps' future.

"Duncan's expertise in AI, machine learning, and system performance optimization is transformative," said Alok Chanani, BuildOps CEO. "We're focused on building the most efficient, resilient platform the industry has ever seen, and Duncan is the leader to get us there."

Duncan joins BuildOps with a proven track record of success in the technology industry. At Weedmaps, he led his team through a successful IPO and redefined industry standards with cutting-edge solutions. His contributions to the company's growth and efficiency highlight his ability to drive innovation and optimize operations.

"I'm thrilled to join BuildOps at such an exciting time," Duncan said. "Leading this talented engineering team to develop next-generation tools for the commercial trades is incredibly exciting. Driving the innovation of the BuildOps platform while increasing our customers' top line and decreasing their costs is our focus for the next few years. The engineering & product teams at BuildOps plan on leveraging AI & machine learning to optimize workflows that help our customers run their business better."

Under Duncan's leadership, BuildOps will continue to advance its technology platform and provide innovative solutions that empower commercial contractors. Key areas of focus include:

- Smarter Integrations: Developing seamless integrations with other industry-leading tools to enhance the overall user experience.
- AI and Machine Learning: Implementing in-line AI and machine learning tools to automate routine tasks and improve efficiency.

- Enhanced Security and Data Handling: Strengthening security measures and optimizing data handling processes to protect customer information.
- Improved Reporting: Providing more robust and insightful reporting capabilities to help customers track performance and identify areas for improvement.

BuildOps is committed to empowering commercial contractors with the tools they need to succeed. With Duncan Grazier at the helm of technology, the company is poised to revolutionize the industry and drive growth for its customers.
