

A Message from David McLoughlin, Chairman of Business Daily Group

September 3, 2025

At Business Daily Group, we believe in the power of knowledge to drive progress, sharpen performance and unlock opportunity. That belief is at the heart of everything we do and it is why we are so proud to announce that Project Management Global has officially become part of our growing family of successful media platforms.

In just over a year, Project Management Global has established itself as one of the fastest-growing professional titles in the sector, amassing a subscriber base of more than 150,000. This extraordinary trajectory reflects both the appetite for trusted insight in project management and the strength of the platform we are building together. With continued investment, we are firmly on course to exceed 200,000 subscribers by the end of this year. That milestone will place Project Management Global firmly among the most influential sources of news and intelligence for project professionals anywhere in the world. Incredibly, we have access to more than 5,000,000 (yes five million) project professionals worldwide on our database...making us one of the most powerful platforms in this arena anywhere.

Business Daily Group is no stranger to rapid growth. Across our product portfolio, which includes Rail Business Daily (now part of RIA), Rail Industry Connect, FM Business Daily, Rail Recruiter and FM Recruiter, we now serve a combined readership of over 500,000 industry professionals. Each brand has been carefully nurtured, guided by the same philosophy: deliver high-quality, actionable content that not only informs but also empowers people to perform at their very best.

For us, Project Management Global represents more than a publication. It is a platform for professionals to access the insights, lessons and stories that elevate careers and transform organisations. Project management is a discipline that underpins every successful venture, across every sector, in every part of the globe. Yet it is also a discipline that is constantly evolving, shaped by new technologies, shifting expectations and increasingly complex delivery environments. Our mission is to make sense of that complexity, to share the experience of those at the cutting edge and to provide project managers everywhere with the intelligence they need to lead with confidence.

This is why we invest so deeply in building communities of knowledge. When we connect professionals with each other, when we share experiences, challenges, and solutions, we make the industry stronger. We help individuals excel in their roles, we help organisations achieve their ambitions and, ultimately, we help major programmes and projects succeed.

We want every subscriber to see Project Management Global not simply as a newsletter, but as a trusted partner in their professional journey. A resource they turn to for clarity, inspiration and a sense of belonging in a global network of peers. By investing your time here, by reading, learning and sharing, you are also investing in your own development and in the growth of the profession itself.

The future for Project Management Global is full of promise. With the reach, expertise and passion of the Business Daily Group behind it, we are ready to take this platform to new heights. We invite you to join us in shaping that journey, to share your stories, to exchange your insights and to be part of a community dedicated to excellence in project management.

Together, we will not only report on the future of project management. We will help define it.

Thank you for subscribing. Please talk to our team today about how you can play a part in engaging and educating project professionals worldwide.
