

Consertus Launches as Global Digital and Advisory Powerhouse to Transform Capital Project Execution

October 10, 2025

Consertus, Inc., backed by Round Table Capital (RTC) Partners, today announced its official launch as a global capital program management and advisory firm. The company is positioned to redefine capital project delivery by seamlessly integrating digital innovation, expert consulting, and full project delivery services.

The newly launched firm manages a formidable portfolio of more than $300 billion in active capital projects, serving over 400 clients across 37 U.S. states, Puerto Rico, and international markets including Saudi Arabia, the UAE, the UK, India, and Latin America. Consortus is powered by a team of more than 800 professionals committed to delivering transformative results for complex capital programs worldwide.

A New Model for Project Execution

Consertus' integrated structure is designed to move beyond traditional, fragmented project management models, leveraging technology to enhance efficiency and value delivery.

Roy Block, CEO of Consortus, said: "We're building a new kind of firm, one that moves beyond outdated models. By combining modern technology, expert advisory, and seamless delivery within an integrated structure, we're delivering outcomes clients once thought impossible: on time, on budget, and with greater value. Most importantly, we're using technology to empower our people, eliminating routine tasks so they can focus on root causes, proactive solutions, and helping clients achieve their most critical goals, all while fostering a truly modern work experience.”

Driving Impact Across Diverse Global Sectors

Consertus’ expansive portfolio spans a diverse range of sectors and high-profile projects, including:

- Building new infrastructure for a major North American transit agency.
 - Managing a multi-year capital improvement program to modernize and expand a major U.S. airport, including integrated oversight, controls, compliance, and auditing.
 - Implementing a project management information system for one of the largest airports in the Middle East, which will service 120 million passengers annually.
 - Revitalizing aging water facilities for a leading U.S. metropolitan water department.
 - Developing data standards framework and deploying digital space management tools for a top healthcare system.
 - Providing program management and project controls for the replacement of wood utility poles with steel for a major energy and utilities provider in the U.S. Midwest.
 - Supporting K-12 and higher education institutions with planning and delivery services for resilient, efficient learning environments.
-

Built Through Strategic Integration of Industry Leaders

Consertus was built rapidly through the acquisition and integration of 10 leading consulting firms, creating a powerful combination of technology and project management expertise. These integrated firms include:

- Acumenian (advisory, technology, and analytics)
- Anchor Enterprises (executive program management and advisory)
- Cotter Consulting (program, project, and construction management)
- CPM (program, project and construction management in Puerto Rico)
- Enstoa (digital innovation, AI solutions, and systems implementation)
- KKCS (full-service program controls and project management)
- OAC Services (design and construction management)
- Saybrook Associates (program management and project controls)
- Waycode (software engineering and digital solutions for the built environment)
- The Wells Partnership (integrated project delivery consulting)

Jordan Cram, former CEO of Enstoa, said: “Enstoa has always pushed boundaries, starting with integrated data and analytics platforms. Consortus is poised to shape the future of the industry through generative and agentic AI methods, and we're proud to be part of the team bringing that vision to life."